SECUREVIEW, LLC (“SECUREVIEW”)

WEB SITE PRIVACY POLICY

1. Overview

Thank you for visiting www.secureviewusa.com (the “Web Site”) and reviewing our Privacy Policy. Your privacy is important to us, and our policy is simple: we will collect no personally identifiable information about you when you visit the Web Site unless you choose to provide that information. This Privacy Policy does not describe information collection practices on other sites, including those linked to or from the Web Site. As noted in our “Terms of Use,” which you are encouraged to visit, our Web Site provides these links as a convenience, and is not responsible for the contents or activities of any linked sites.

2. What Type of Information We Collect

Across our electronic platforms, you will be presented with the opportunity to provide information and sign up for receiving emails, information, and other notices related to our products and services, as well as issues that relate to our industry. We do not collect any personally identifiable information about you from our Web Site unless you voluntarily provide it. In some areas of Web Site, we may request that you provide us with personal information that will help us to provide you with information about our products, including your first and last name, company, mailing address, e-mail address, telephone number, and other information from which your identity is discernible. For example, our Web Site includes, or may include, places where you can create a profile or account, or sign up to order a product or use a service.

When you visit our Web Site, we may also collect usage information describing how our Web Site is used and navigated, including the number and frequency of visitors to each section of the Web Site and the length of their stay. This information includes the domain names of users and browser types that visit our Web Site and the time of day the Web Site was visited. This information is not personally identifiable information.

We also use cookies. A cookie is a small piece of data that is stored in a browser-related file on your computer’s hard drive when you use the Web Site. Cookies are uniquely assigned to your computer, and are read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you. Our primary use of cookies is to improve your experience on our Web Site. For example, storing a cookie on your computer allows you to login without typing an e-mail address, password, or other information each time.

3. Children.

In order to comply with the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA), SecureView and its related properties are geared to and focused on information for adults. SecureView does not knowingly collect or store any personal information about children under the age of 18. If you have a child under the age of 18 that accesses our Web Site and provides us with personal information without parental or guardian consent, you may contact us to have the information removed from our records.

4. How We Use This Information.

When you voluntarily provide us with personally identifiable information, we will use that information for the purposes for which it was provided. In general, and except for the situations specifically described below, we do not share any information about you with anyone without your express consent.

We may use the information that you voluntarily provide to us to deliver to you information about our company, our Web Site, and the services we provide. For example, we may use your contact information in order to send you e-mail or other communications regarding new services or products that we are offering. We may also provide additional communications, promotions, or information on new business or marketing opportunities.

The law requires disclosure in some instances. For example, we may be required to share information to protect against fraud, in response to a court subpoena, and the like. As we continue to explore new business opportunities, we may need to, and we reserve the right to, transfer and assign customer contact and site usage information collected on the Web Site to one or more affiliated and unaffiliated entities as part of a business transaction. In all such situations, we stress the confidential nature of the information being shared.

5. How to "Opt Out" of Having Your Information Shared.

If for any reason you do not wish to receive communications from our Web Site, tell us. You can call us at 1.855.SCRVIEW, or you can send an e-mail to customerservice@secureviewusa.com. Also, we provide a direct link for you to easily opt out of our various e-mail promotions that provide information about the special opportunities we offer at the bottom of those e-mails. By continuing to interact with our emails and programs, you provide us with permission to manage and use your data as described above. Consenting to allow us to process and store your data is optional. However, failure to consent will prevent us from delivering the content, products, services, and other experiences to you as mentioned above.

6. The Security of Your Information.

Our Web Site has industry standard security measures in place to protect the loss, misuse, unauthorized access, and alteration of the information under our control. If you ever use your credit card in connection with purchasing goods or services from the Web Site, your credit card information will be protected through the use of encryption technology. Encryption technology makes it difficult for your credit card information to be intercepted or stolen while being transmitted. Your credit card information will only be shared with our payment processors in order to complete the transaction in which you are engaging.

While there is no such thing as “perfect security” on the Internet, we take all reasonable steps to insure the safety of your personal information. However, we cannot guarantee the security of information provided over the Internet, and we will not be responsible for breaches of security beyond our reasonable control. If you have any questions about our privacy policy or information security, you can contact the Web Site’s customer service through the “contact us” section of the Web Site, or by contacting us in any of the ways described below.

7. Changes to Our Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy was last updated in May, 2018 to reflect GDPR compliance standards. We may update this policy from time to time as our information practices are modified or changed. We encourage you to periodically review this page for the latest information on our privacy practices.

8. Contact Information

Questions or comments regarding the Web Site should be sent by e-mail to customerservice@secureviewusa.com or by U.S. mail to SecureView, LLC, 200 Public Square, Suite 2500, Cleveland, Ohio 44114. You can also call us at 1.855.SCRVIEW.
